

Provincial Sends Seven Teachers

By JERRY BRUNNING

Under the direct inspiration of St. Patrick, Rev. Father Thomas Henneberry, S.J., the provincial of the New York province of the Society of Jesus, this summer appointed Fathers Martin Mahoney, Thomas McMahon, Francis Grogan, Thomas Egan, Edward Kennedy, William Reilly and John Larkin to the faculty of Canisius College.

Father Mahoney, of course, is the new dean of studies and an article about him appears elsewhere in the Griffin.

Father McMahon, having completed graduate work in educational administration at N.Y.U., has been appointed Assistant Director of Personnel Services. Formerly, Father McMahon was assistant dean of studies and professor of theology at St. Peter's College, Jersey City.

A former teacher at Canisius High School, Father Thomas Egan joins the College as associate professor of chemistry in both the day and evening divisions and as associate director of guidance. Father Egan has his B.S. from Spring Hill College in Alabama and his M.S. in chemistry from Fordham.

After a year's study in France, Father Francis Grogan has been assigned to Canisius to teach political philosophy. He holds his degrees from Chicago's Loyola University and Fordham.

The new assistant student counsellor, Father Edward F. X. Kennedy, comes to Canisius from Regis High School. Father's educational background includes the Bachelor and Master degrees in Arts from Loyola University, Chicago, and a year's study in Wales.

The new chairman and professor in the department of classics is Father John Larkin. Father Larkin has his bachelor of arts from St. Peter's College and an M.A. from Fordham. He is now a candidate for a Ph.D. at Fordham. Previous assignments include St. Andrew's, the Jesuit Seminary, and Regis High School in Manhattan.

Another Ph. D. candidate from Fordham is Father William L. Reilly. Having studied last year at the University of Louvain in Belgium, Father Reilly now joins the philosophy department here.
